

CASUAL MARKET CHICAGO

ICFA BOARD OF DIRECTORS APPROVES CANCELLATION OF CASUAL MARKET

The Board of Directors of the International Casual Furnishings Association yesterday approved the cancellation of its annual trade show, Casual Market Chicago. The move comes amid ongoing concerns related to COVID-19 combined with current state and local restrictions to sponsoring the event scheduled on September 22-25.

The ICFA and theMART are committed to offering a safe opportunity for exhibitors, retailers and designers to conduct business, and intend to regularly monitor the situation. Many permanent showrooms at theMART are currently open daily and/or by appointment; interested buyers should contact companies directly to make arrangements to visit. Please visit the 2020 Showroom and Exhibitor Listing for contact info: <http://www.casualmarket.com/showrooms-exhibitors/showroom-and-exhibitor-listing>

- If you booked hotel accommodations in the Casual Market Chicago hotel block via our official housing vendor, onPeak, your reservation will be automatically cancelled. If you booked a hotel reservation outside the onPeak system and Casual Market Chicago block, you must cancel/transfer your hotel reservation on your own.
- Casual Market Chicago temporary exhibitors will be contacted by Madeleine Tullier regarding their booth contract.

We thank all of our Casual Market Chicago participants for their loyalty and support, and we look forward to bringing the casual community back together in Chicago in 2021.

- ICFA Preview Show: Tuesday, July 20—Thursday, July 22, 2021
- Casual Market Chicago: Tuesday, September 21 – Friday, September 24, 2021